ARMY FUND BILL PASSES SENATE

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The Senate yesterday passed the annual army appropriation bill carrying $415,919,000 and sent it to conference.

The bill provides for an increase of approximately $42,000,000 over the House bill, but $553,000 less than the appropriation for the present fiscal year. The principal Senate increase was $12,745,000 for the army air service, making it total $40,000,000.

The Senate eliminated House provisions which would give the army air service control over all military aerial operations from land bases and would confine naval aviation to fleet operations, fleet shore bases, training of personnel and construction and experimental work.

Authorization was given by the Senate for the sale of the old army transports Sherman, Sherman, Sherman, and Vicksburg, and of the hosiery plant at Erie, Pa., and establishment from the proceeds of the latter sale of a government owned plant at the Watervliet Arsenal, New York, for the manufacture of medium caliber field artillery.

Committee amendments providing for the sale of government war munition plants at Tullytown, Pa.; Atlanta, N. J., and Jacksonville, Fla., were rejected.

The Senate also overruled the committee in voting to obtain House appropriations of $88,880 for the acquisition of land near Camp Travis, Texas, for a target range.

The present state of the world's civilization answers this question: it seems to me. Human folly is so vast, so formidable, so universal, that it seems difficult to admit that they are not more advanced than we, especially if, as probable, Mars is older by several million years than the earth.

For my part, it seems to me that the most of us want to send signals to us they need it long ago, perhaps a hundred thousand years ago and that they may very well have given it up on becoming convinced that they were wasting their time and that we were incapable of responding.

JOHNSON SAYS HIS OUTLOOK IS "BULLY."

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Senator Johnson described the outlook as "bully" and denied that there had been an arrangement by which his delegates at the Chicago convention would be eventually swing to Senator Knox.

Senator Johnson said that he was beaten in New Jersey by a majority of $50,000. This assertion was part of a satirical comment by him on the testimony given yesterday before the Senate committee investigating campaign expenditures.

MOTHERS' CLUBS WAR ON CAFES

An ordinance to curb cafes and cabarets in Oakland is asked of the city council by the Oakland Federation of Mothers' Clubs in a resolution which was adopted at a conference yesterday. The resolution recites that commercialized cafes and cabarets have existed without restraint since July, 1913; that their evils have been reported to the authorities who have promised to frame an ordinance but who have not done so. Protection of the youth of the city and public health is urged. The resolution will be presented to the city council.

Additional members at Bushrod Playground will be asked of the board of education, the city council and the recreation department by the recreation federation.

The committee is at present approximately 1,000. It will be shorn by some 400 of the necessary accommodations needed for the school meets. The property is owned jointly by the city and the board of education. Mrs. P. J. Kramer, Mrs. Ira N. Allen and Mrs. L. K. Beever have been named a committee to frame the proper resolution under the authority of the federation.

Thus disillusioned, Mrs. Howlett says she returned to her former position.

She charges that during her married life Howlett was quarrelsome, one time hitting her on the head and refusing to take her to the admittance when she went alone he objected.

STORK SECURES DELAY IN JAIL TERM FOR MAN

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—The stork today interposed between Tom Fabbri, proprietor of a cafe in the Italian quarter in San Francisco, and a sentence of three months which he must serve for a violation of the prohibition act.

Accompanied by his attorney, Fabbri appeared in the United States district court and explained that the stork was about to visit his home and would visit the court during his confinement for sixty days.

The request was granted and Fabbri, smiling, left the court, apparently undismayed by the fact that at the expiration of sixty days he must leave his family and spent ninety days in jail.

Chum of Dead Boy Free of Detention

Walter Arhens, 900, Thirty-sixth avenue, the 9-year-old accomplice of Theodore Welch, who was killed in a death trap Sunday afternoon in the Union League club of San Francisco, was released last night from the Detention Home at Eighteenth and Poplar streets.

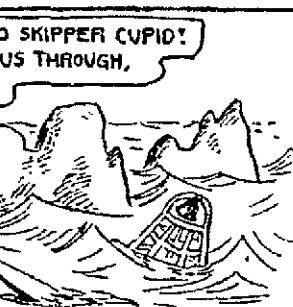

He admitted that he had participated in two raids on the mill office prior to the raid in which his companion was shot and killed by the death trap gun.

There was no reason to hold the boy, old Superintendent James Page of the Detention Home. "The affair has undoubtedly been a lesson to him and other wayward youths."

DOCTOR HELD IN WOMAN'S DEATH

Booze Aroma Recalls Old Days Misplaced Melody Provokes Riot

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson yesterday afternoon ordered the arrest of Dr. Hans Mager on a charge of filing a false death certificate and indicated that further arrests may be made.

The arrest of Mager came at the end of an exhaustive examination by the police into the mysterious death of Edith Suter, labor organizer suspected by the police to have been a victim of an illegal operation.

Mrs. Ira Brown, a practical nurse of 241 Excelsior avenue, in whose home the Suter woman died last Saturday night, was at police headquarters all day yesterday being questioned by detectives, as was allowed to go home at night.

Miss Brown told the police that Miss Suter applied to her home for medical aid and that she became alarmed and called in Dr. Mager, who diagnosed the case as pneumonia. That night Miss Suter died.

Matheson directed that Mager be arrested on the autopsy report of Dr. John Clark, coroner's surgeon, who said that there was every indication that an operation had been performed.

From below a street organist.

Bob Foggie, the Scotch police court bailiff, gazed out the window. He was in his retirement, and there was quiet and remissual in his eye.

A drowsy sadness prevailed in the police court. The case concerned eight stolen barrels of whisky; and the occasional mention of the precious but contraband fluid wrung a heart-sigh from everyone in the room from Judge Suter to the lounge on the farthest bench. But especially from Bob Foggie.

It was hot outside. And it would have been the bock beer season in former days. And from Exhibit 1 in the case emanated a faint odor that was emanated and familiar; for Exhibit 1 was a fifty-gallon barrel of bonded whisky.

Exhibit 1 was the center of attention. The judge gazed upon it with an abstract and speculative demeanor; the spectators craned their necks to catch a glimpse of it; and the Scotch bailiff whetted his lips and his nostrils quivered as a slight stir of ozone wafted the odor from Exhibit 1 to him.

Then the trial of Calvin Rine and W. C. Gardner on the charge of robbing the Oakland Drug Company. Eighteenth and Telegraph, proceeded without further interruption.

directly beneath the open police court windows, began to play "How Do I Love Thee?" And he kept on playing it interminably. And every one, from the judge down, kept on getting more and more nervous.

Finally the tension increased to the breaking point. Perspiration rolled down Ballif Foggie's face and his tongue worked overtime back and forth across his lips.

"Stop the trial, gentlemen," ordered the judge. "We are all human beings and subject to the common frailties and temptations. Bailiff, make that organ grinder stop that tune."

The hearing of the case was stopped. The bailiff departed to carry out the mandate of the judge.

LOS ANGELES, May 26.—The gasoline situation in Southern California is not such as to cause any uneasiness, according to local officials of the Standard Oil and Union Oil Companies. Local production of crude is far in excess of local requirements, but consumers have been urged to exercise strict economy.

CHICAGO, May 26.—The retail price of gasoline went to 28 cents a gallon retail here today following the announcement of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana in raising the price of filling stations to 26 cents, a one cent increase. Gasoline oil jumped to 18 1/2 cents.

It was also announced that there was an adequate supply of gasoline in Yosemite and that motorists need not fear of being stranded in the park.

After asking public cooperation to effect a saving the statement given out after the conference concludes: "We wish to advise the motorist that there is no occasion for alarm and to assure them that the shortage is but temporary and conditions will again be normal at the end of the ten weeks' conservation period."

Production of oil during 1919 increased 1,576,600 barrels or 1 1/2 per cent over the year before, according to the statement issued with State Mineralogist Fletcher Hamilton. M'DONOUGH TRIAL SET FOR JUNE 7

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—The summoning of a special venire and an outside judge to try Peter P. McDonough are being considered in the prosecution of the police officer in the case. An arrangement that precaution will be taken to see that the jurors who hear the McDonough case and the one against Police Judge John J. Sullivan are drawn from large panels and that impartiality is assured has been made by the Attorney-General's office.

E. B. Power, assistant to Attorney-General Frank Murphy, told today that the prosecution will be ready to start the McDonough trial on June 7. If this is done another judge must be summoned as Judge Franklin A. Griffin will be in Chicago attending the Republican convention.

A. Vincent Riccardi's demonstration that he could find a jury box with men selected beforehand has called forth demands from County Clerk Mullery and the assembly that he be called in and questioned as to how the trick was done. The experiment showed that the venire box was almost empty and that a jury of twelve was drawn from seventeen names. Riccardi so far has refused to explain how he picked the twelve.

THE BEST ON EARTH

Says Mrs. Staples of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Taunton, Mass.—"I could not eat or sleep for six months, had fainting spells and could not walk without help for three months, caused by female trouble. My cousin, who was a doctor, told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me greatly. Then during the Change of Life I used the same remedy. I am seventy years old now and am able to do my own housework and walk one mile to church every Sunday morning and evening. I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends having the same troubles as I had. Your remedy is the best on earth. I cannot find words to express my gratitude to it—Mrs. SUSAN C. STAPLES, 557 B. School St., Taunton, Mass.

The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and illness such as dislocations, inflammation and ulceration. Why don't you try it?

Editor, The TRIBUNE: I was in the United States Army from December, 1905, until November, 1914. I have two honorable discharges. Does that exempt me from induction up to a certain amount, or does the exemption apply only to those who served during time of war?—L. S. STRICKLING, 422 South Fourteenth St., Richmond.

EBERT IN DANGER.

Recent news from Germany would add force to the prediction of Maximilian Harden that the stage is set for another revolt and attempted coup by the monarchists. The recent Von Kapp affair has taught to the old kaiser crowd two lessons and both are of a nature to urge them to try once more to seize the government.

In the first place the Von Kapp revolution demonstrated how easy a thing it is to take over Berlin. Granted, the monarchists were forced to leave and found little to recompense them for their troubles: they escaped without punishment and learned, if they can ever learn anything, what additional steps need be taken for the next attempt.

Exciting as it may have seemed and world-wide in importance as it was in denoting a complete, though brief, change in government at Germany's capital, the Von Kapp "revolt" was little more than a military parade. Startled Berlin awoke to find the trappings of the old army at its gates. The gates opened to let Ebert out and a new group was in power. Because that group could not retain its control does not mean it will not try again.

As a preliminary move the monarchists may be expected to stir up internal disturbances. Their tactics have been to use the radicals as tools, to foment uprisings, and then to ride into office as the saviors of the country. If there be riots in Germany in the new few months, if machine guns are turned on the streets, and if the prediction is made that the "reds" are about to seize control, there may well be reasons for the suspicion that the plans and the ports are laid for another Von Kapp parade and that Ebert is to be given one more uneasy hour.

CORNCOB DEMAND ATTENTION.

To the lowly corncob, heretofore a source of amusement as fodder for Missouri mules and material with which to construct the bowls of pipes, a part of the country is looking with expectant concern.

If experiments now under way are successful, and some of them have reached that stage, the cartoonist will be called upon to replace the familiar object in pictures of the smoking agriculturist with the more shapely briar, and the abuse-accustomed mule must look elsewhere for his tid-bits. The corncob is promising a solution of the dye problem.

The announcement that surfural has been made from corncobs will cause no wild alarm or ecstasy until it is explained that from surfural is made dyes.

Already a vivid green, reminiscent of its maize-hood days, has been created and some drabs and tans have been produced. Factories are planned in the Mississippi and Missouri valleys. The cob as a dye-maker seems to have arrived. In the course of the experimenting it was found that an excellent grade of glue was also obtained.

Experiments to make paper from cornstalks have reached a stage which causes a large of the research say that there is no reason to believe that before long it will be possible to market the corn paper in competition with that made from wood pulp. The handicap has been in the fact that the process was so costly as to make it impracticable to put the product on sale, and the attention of the scientists is now centered toward reducing this cost.

The corncob and the cornstalks are moving into the aristocratic class.

A possible effect of the prohibition regulations in the United States is shown by the manner in which the country is taken to coffee, and that despite the fact that the price is double that of any other year in import history. The country's coffee bill is now one million dollars a day, against one third of that sum a year ago. All of the figures show that the country is importing more coffee and re-exporting less than ever before, but that the increased consumption is supplying a demand that is difficult to meet.

Those who assumed off-hand that the downfall of Carranza would work the elimination of Villa as a bandit, are beginning to conclude that they may not have sensed it right. He is still following his bent in the old way, and there are no real signs that he has intent to perform otherwise. He will still be a problem, but his solution ought to be possible to a government which goes at it straightforwardly, having the integrity and competence to gain the confidence of the people. The country is terribly demoralized, without doubt; but there must be a nucleus that will welcome the re-establishment of orderly progress and personal security, the general rehabilitation of industries and affairs. If Villa can defy an earnest and competent effort to end his lawless reign, Mexico is even worse off than reports have made her appear.

PROBLEMS FOR OBREGON.

Obregon, the one-armed farmer-soldier who has ridden into power in Mexico, is still facing some of the most difficult tasks ever put before a Mexican leader. Differing from most of those who have ruined his country, he seems to believe in the program he has put forward and to possess the determination to carry it out. In front of him are some appalling handicaps.

In the first place, Obregon must hold together the army. Next he must pull his country out of bankruptcy. How he can accomplish the latter result without disorganizing his military and political force will be recognized as a problem calling for unusual tact and force by those who know anything of the state in which the army has been for a number of decades. To put Mexico on a firm financial basis the graft must be removed from military and civil life. The question remains, how many supporters will be left to the man who takes away the padded payrolls and unanointed commissary requisitions and the like?

But Obregon has set himself the task of doing these things. He has promised the world and is basing his hope for recognition by other governments on four definite propositions:

"Every facility to capital seeking investment in Mexico for the development of mineral wealth."

"Endeavoring to formulate the most practical and equitable arrangement for capital and labor in the state."

"Full recognition of all rights, legitimately acquired in Mexico by foreigners in strict accordance with our laws."

"Fullest guarantee to all foreigners residing in Mexico."

The indignation over Shantung, manifest immediately the terms of the peace pact were made known, seems now to have been unnecessary. A dispatch states that China expresses pleasure that Japan proposes to return Kiao Chau, but fails to see the necessity of formal negotiations. Which constitutes a big illustration of the futility of worrying over the troubles of others.

The senatorial probe brought up the fact that Governor Lowden has spent $404,084.78 in his presidential enterprise. Being a Pullman son-in-law, he can afford it; but considering how far others have got on a tenth of such outlay, and how far he has still to go, it might be concluded that somebody has been diluted.

It is said of Obregon that he can glance at a printed page and repeat every word in order. He has demonstrated that he is an expert agriculturalist and a master of the arts of war. He has also shown himself to be one of the few in places of prominence in his country who are not susceptible to bribes.

The attitude of Obregon toward the United States and other countries, his mental equipment and character make it possible to believe that he will be able to surmount the difficulties which are still in his way.

The opinion has often been expressed that if China "wakes up," or when she awakens, there will be something doing world wide. A people so numerous and possessing such virile traits will be able to impress themselves upon the civilizations of the earth as soon as they realize their power and adopt modern methods of exerting it. There are signs that China is shaking off her lethargic spirit and ancient customs which have kept her in the background for ages.

The price of airplane rides has been reduced fifty per cent in Los Angeles. Still it is not the cost of high flying that is worrying of us.

THE FUTURE OF THE PACIFIC.

The party of legislators about to visit the Pacific Ocean countries need not be deterred by sarcastic flings by insular scribes who fail to see the value of foreign travel. If Congress would provide for placing government transports at the disposal of well-selected parties of legislators charged with the making of appropriations for the support of the army, navy, foreign commerce, the merchant marine, etc., the saving would be to millions and the money expended would be a real boon.

The party of Congressmen from the Pacific countries bordering on the Pacific. The raw material of the world is coming from those regions. The future of a happy race lies in the Pacific Ocean basin. The problem of adjusting the relations of the Orient and the West is one that demands the earnest effort of all Americans, and especially Americans in Congress.

The art of knowledge of international questions has, in the United States, a great many millions, which could be saved by a few educational trips by legislators to the extent as to be negligible. Men are not so gullible because of their supposed ability to penetrate the many matters they cannot have this art of knowledge.

The development of American commerce in the Pacific is contingent upon the wisdom of Congress in dealing with the merchant marine, the tariff, the immigration question and other subjects which are practical and easy to men who know nothing of the Pacific area. No American can properly be regarded as an enlightened and capable legislator on a subject of which he has not visited the four quarters of the United States. Similarly, no member of Congress can be regarded as competent to deal with legislation affecting other nations and the outlying possessions of the United States unless he has gained firsthand knowledge of his subject.

The United States would have been saved much expense and trouble in dealing with the vexed question of the peace treaty if every Senator and Representative had visited Europe. There would have been no difficulty in their minds regarding their duty to their country and to the outside world—Washington Post.

NOTES and
COMMENT

The cities which show decline in population are so few that they attract attention. When Spokane was reported to be 125 short of its showing of ten years ago the fact was commented upon, and now Burlington, Iowa, is accredited with a decrease of 267, making the second instance of recession in considerable communities. The Spokane instance is the more noticeable, however, because of the abnormal increase reported in the census 1910.

A report of a Martinez minister's sermon is to the effect that "Bluebeard" Watson was accused of being a coward. His other inestimable traits are so monumental that in comparison cowardice seems almost a virtue. There is slight satisfaction in discussing any phase of this human character.

It is announced from Cleveland that unemployment may follow a decline in prices. Undoubtedly, a decline in prices will bring a reduction in salaries and wages, and that is never accepted at once. Those who are asked to take less pay invariably demur and mostly quit. It will require time to make the adjustment.

In the statement of Colonel Herrera is to have weight—that Carranza committed suicide—the story of Carranza having been "riddled with bullets" will have to be revised. A falso de se is not generally able to keep up a fusillade on himself till he becomes "riddled."

The Federal Government lost nearly a billion dollars in its essay on railroad management. Perhaps this need not have been. It is quite reasonably contended that government control was more intimate than even the unusual exigencies warranted; that a general domination, under company management, would have realized the desired effect much more thoroughly and at a vastly lessened financial sacrifice, besides leaving the roads unpaired.

Dresses of Their Own Make Will Be Worn by Young Misses at Exhibit

One hundred and fifty high school girls will offer what is declared to be the prettiest and most dainty fashion pageant ever presented to an East Bay audience at the Commercial Travelers' Industrial Exposition at the municipal auditorium this evening. The girls will present over 300 different gowns and dresses of their own make and copied from the latest Paris models, the cost of which ranges from $1.75 to $2.50.

Miss Esther Wheeler, a student at the Technical High School, concocted the idea for the pageant and has written a story about which the gowns and models are used. Music and dancing will be a feature of the presentation of the oddity.

Tomorrow evening will witness a public reception to the naval officials in charge of the San Francisco district. Mayor Davey will officially welcome them to the exposition. The official government film, "The Navy

In Action," will be shown.

GRAHAM WOULD LIKE TO SIGN UP A FEW MORE M'QUAIDS

OAKS HIT NEXT TO LAST POSITION IN THE LEAGUE LADDER BUT J. CAL EWING GETS BUSY

WORK OF SAM AGNEW AND HERB McQUAID DEFEATS THE LOCALS

Besides Throwing Out Four Stealers, Seal Catcher Drives in First Two Runs

By EDDIE MURPHY.

Because Manager Charley Graham found himself in a pinch for pitchers when word was sent him that Slim Love was sick and would not be able to pitch the opening game of the series for the Seals against the Oaks. Herbie McQuaid, the product of the local sandlots was given the chance on the mound. Opposed to McQuaid was Carl Holling, another product from the local bushes, but who broke into professional company one year before young McQuaid. The result of the pitching duel which the two youngsters waged is that Holling is charged with his fifth straight defeat, and the Seals took the opening game by a 4 to 1 score.

McQuaid pitched a wonderful game considering the bunch of hard hitting Oaks he faced. He did not allow two in an inning. With a fellow like Sam Agnew to catch him all the time, McQuaid should develop into one of the best winning pitchers in the tourney. He pitched the tourney against two of the hardest hitting clubs in the league, in the Oaks and Portland Beavers and he has proved that he has the stuff with which to contend. He can catch fellas like Hack Miller, Billy Linn, and Honus Wize back without hits, and must have the goods to back up his ballhitting. It was Hack Miller, in the first inning of the game, with Claude Cooper on first base, Hack caught hold of the ball and it went into the field, the ball sailed and it looked like it would go into the bleachers. Joe Connolly, the Seal left fielder, ran back to the fence and just as the ball was about to hit the boards, he leaped into the air and caught the ball with his bare hand. The catch was ever so clean, sensational, and the fans roared. Hack Miller, in the second inning, was charged with the first two runs, but he was the only error for the Oaks.

Sam Agnew Gives Another Great Exhibition of Pega.

Sam Agnew, the Seals' catcher was once again in the limelight by throwing out the only three Oaks who tried to plier bases on him. Sam sure has the stuff to be a good baseball man for the world's best base stealers, and if Sam keeps up, the players will just about quit trying to steal. In the ninth inning he dropped in a wild pitch, and from the plate and then recovered it in time to catch Jack Knight trying to steal second. Agnew certainly is a great help to the pitcher when he has to catch all the runners, hazing their bases all the time. We know of fans who are going to games now just to watch Agnew throw runners out. Some of the best arm work is around the plate, as far as six feet from the bag. That is also to Pop Arlett who tried to steal third as Holling fanned.

Holling Hurlled a Good Game, But Was Jinxed.

While Holling is charged with his fifth straight defeat as a result of his mind being with Aloud, it is not alibing to say that Holling pitched a hardluck game.

Carl allowed eight hits, but two of them were hits by Agnew, and when the Seals scored two runs were of the real field variety. They were just those kind of hits, balls that quivered and quaked enough by the infielders.

Carl got out of a tight jam in the third inning after McQuaid and Schick threw out the only two batters force runs at second.

After watching the way Agnew threw out the four base stealers and then noticing that the ones he threw out were the ones that crossed the first two runs over the plate for the Seals, Sam deserves at least credit for the Seals' coming out the game with one out, a walk to Fitzgerald, a single by Joe Connolly and a double steal put runners on second and third for Sam to get a clean hit over short to drive home the two runs.

The Oaks got them one run in the second when Harry Schick had the one out, which Harry Schick misjudged and went for a double, and Jack reached the plate on an infield out by Hamilton and Arlett.

Things broke tough for Holling and the Oaks in the seventh and that is just about knocked the fight out of the locals. Herb McQuaid proved to be a good pitcher, but he was not able to get the Seals out.

Sam Agnew, the Seals' catcher, was the only one to get a hit in the game, and he had a double, but he was not able to get the Seals out.

ARCHBISHOP TO BLESS STARTING OF NEW CHURCH

ALAMDA, May 26.—Archbishop Edward Hanna of the Archdiocese of San Francisco will officiate at the laying of the corner stone of St. Joseph's church, August 22, when appropriate ceremonies for the Catholic service will be observed.

The new edifice is a $150,000 structure to replace the church destroyed by fire last week. The new church will be built under the direction of Rev. Dennis Praught, rector of St. Joseph's parish, and will be in the mission design, built of concrete.

The new church is the first unit of a group of buildings which Rev. Praught plans to have erected within the next few years. A boys' school, with all modern equipment, is to be the next venture, and will be built across the street from the church.

It was originally planned to have the laying of the corner stone at an earlier date, but Archbishop Hanna's visit to Rome, where he was in conference at the Vatican, has delayed the event.

In almost every case the victimized merchant reports that the fake money and raised currency has been passed by a well dressed woman.

The last instance of the woman counterfeiter's operations was reported this morning by J. Aronson, 3544 East 11th.

He told the police that last night a well dressed woman had entered his store, and after making a minor purchase tendered a $10 bill as payment. Aronson this morning discovered that the bill had been raised from $1 to $10.

A telegram from Banwood, West Virginia, notified M. J. Kelly today that his old home town had given Hiram Johnson more than 2 to 1 vote over Leonard Wood. What makes the result more remarkable, according to Kelly, is that the ballot contained the names of United States Senator Sutherland and Wood and that the Johnson voters had to write in their preference.

When Buying a Piano
Good Quality Is Real Economy

Most people buy a piano once in a lifetime. They start out to buy a "here they can do the best" (as they think), not where they can "get the best" (as they should). The attribute "best" so many usually means the lowest price. Now pianos, like everything else in this world, are priced according to their intrinsic worth. They cannot be made to sell (and endure) at the prices which some unscrupulous dealers offer them. The "cheap prices" are for "cheap pianos"—beware of them, because the instruments soon give out, sound tuny, become unplayable—and you have to buy another new piano. Why not buy a good piano in the first place? It will be real economy to consider quality as well as price. A good dealer carries several grades of pianos when measured by price. You may not be able to afford the most expensive, but you will be able to buy according to your purse—the buying will be made easy by convenient term payments—and what you buy will have quality—will give you service—will cause you no regrets.

Accidents Bring Death to
Three Children at Play

Harold Pederson, aged 9, 2252 Eighty-third avenue, was ground to death beneath the wheels of a west-bound Southern Pacific train; Roy Gustavson, aged 4, of 9 Ord street, San Francisco, was mangled and died under the trucks of a street car at Eighteenth and Collingwood in that city, and Heber Witham Jr., of San Francisco, drowned at Mountain Lake in the Presidio in a series of three accidents which claimed child victims yesterday.

Pederson was killed at Eighty-third avenue and Blanche street in full view of his parents when he was being pulled across the tracks to catch a ball. Battalion Chief Max Dohman of the fire department supplied a hydraulic lift to lift the train off the lad. Marcus Pederson, a carpenter, 5357 Fairfax avenue was booked for manslaughter to satisfy technicalities and was released. M. E. Brook, 1205 Alice street, was the conductor. The 4-year-old Gustavson baby, son of Oscar Gustavson, glass-blower, ran onto the tracks in front of the car before Motorman Carl Henning could stop. The child was living when the fire department removed him, but he died while being taken to the Emergency Hospital. Witnesses said the baby was playing near his home.

The drowning of the child in San Francisco occurred when he slipped from the small wharf into the water. Fred Hahn, a truck driver for the San Francisco Fire Department, was unable to save his life. The child, a son of Heber Witham, chauffeur of 730 Twenty-eighth avenue, San Francisco, had just been released from a private school he attended at 170 Twelfth avenue.
